Malcolm MacMillan meets the woman of his dreams, a beautiful highland lass. However, he faces numerous obstacles to possess her. He must capture her from her powerful uncle, Laird of Clan MacIntyre, and hide with her in his families abandoned Stonefield Castle near Loch Fyne in Kintyre, Scotland. Once safely away from her uncle, he takes her home to Castle Sween, where he quickly makes her his bride.

But can he keep her with him? What mystery does Mary hold in her past?

Circumstances quickly change when Malcolm and his young bride are kidnapped and taken to the northeast coast of France where they are unexpectedly introduced to a royal family and to an identical twin sister whom Mary was unaware of her existence. Are shadows of her past to be revealed? Intrigue, greed, attempted murder and revenge propel this adventure to new heights and eventually great joy.
